FAMOUS SCREEN CHIEF WRITES ON HOW TO SUCCEED

Perseverance and Courage Are Vital Necessities if One Would Win MIRROR IS GREAT GUIDE Asserts Opportunity Is Waiting, but Only 'Best' Can Hope to Score

Thomas H. Ince, the famous moving picture producer, has written a series of special articles on films for The Evening Herald.

By THOS. H. INCE Head of the Big Moving Picture Corporation at Culver City.

Like most industries which grow so rapidly that demand exceeds supply, the motion picture industry faces a state of exhaustion in human material.

In the early periods of picture making unknown young men and women of marked talent and gracious appearance found it obviously difficult and, in instances where no professional experience was cited, next to impossible to gain entrance into pictures.

SEEKING TALENT Now, however, the producers are cognizant of natural talent and sincere ambition; they have reached a milestone in their careers where it is both possible and sensible to encourage the development of aspirants and to offer such stimulation and assistance as will cultivate inborn talent and desire.

The abnormal excitement and agitated rush which has so conspicuous in former days has been replaced with system and precision of operation in all departments of studio administration, thereby permitting of a production schedule that extends far into the future, and also affording the opportunity to test and experiment without detriment to prevalent production and with pronounced advantages to both the producer and the public.

PERSEVERANCE, COURAGE As a collective response to hundreds of young men and women who have sought advice on the possibilities of a motion picture career, I unhesitatingly recommend perseverance, courage, and, above all, honesty with one's living self.

Fidelity to an individual's conviction is perhaps the most powerful driving force to success. But convictions should not be formed, nor permitted, until a thorough and faithful test has been made by none other than the person striving toward some given goal.

A mirror is perhaps the truest friend of the young man or woman seeking opportunity in motion pictures. Not the flattery nor even the well-meaning advice of loving relatives and friends, but the tell-tale story of the mirror, is the safe and sure gauge of one's convictions—favorable or otherwise.

If you are possessed of visualization, and do not believe the picture in the mirror, you will know of your own volition whether or not nature has gifted you with the attributes necessary to the screen.

In forming your conviction on dramatic talent—the ability to pantomime the emotions of life and love—there are the established, reputable academies of art and expression to which one may go for the preliminary schooling and development.

I encourage and advocate a course in one of these institutions of integrity before advising the Weeping as she told the story of her unhappy marital experiences and the loss of her two children, Mrs. Bertha M. Coleman was granted a divorce by Judge Crall today from Henry L. Coleman.

Eva Applewhite was named as co-respondent and she was blamed by the wife for the breaking up of the home and the loss of both her husband and her two daughters.

Mrs. Coleman said she and Coleman were married Dec. 22, 1905, and separated May 5, 1913, when Coleman was alleged to have run away from their home in Long Beach in company with Miss Applewhite.

When they disappeared, they took the two Coleman girls with them, the wife said.

Congratulate Victor Over L. A. Landlord

Victor in a controversy with a truculent landlord, which found its way into Police Judge Frederickson's court, Charles W. Kadley received congratulations from a number of his friends today.

When notified of an increase in his rent by the landlord, Kadley exercised his legal right and demanded formal notice in writing. Thereupon the landlord was alleged to have lost his temper and attacked Kadley.

As a result the landlord was fined $250 by Judge Frederickson.

Companions Leave Girl to Die in Fire

The action was taken to prevent scalpers from securing the best seats in the house and selling them at clubs and hotels at prices from 30 to 50 per cent higher than the prices charged at the box office.

Arrests Are Made in Alleged Chinese Lottery Dens and Rooming Houses

They arrested 20 men, charged with being in the places for drawings. The prisoners were released on $25 bail each, pending arraignment in police court.

Officers of the purity squad arrested a couple giving the names of H. J. Sargent and Roby Coffman in a Clay street house on a charge of violating the rooming-house ordinance. At the same time other officers arrested a woman giving the name of Mrs. Sarah Smith at an East Fourth street hotel. She was booked on a vagrancy charge.

DOG ROUTS BANDITS WHO FELL MASTER

Four automobile bandits who attacked G. Hammerand, proprietor of a garage at La Crescenta, and knocked him to the ground, were routed by Hammerand's airedale dog which furiously attacked the thieves.

The animal rushed to its master's side when he fell to the ground and then chased the bandits to their automobile.

It bit one of the men, who left a trail of blood as he fled. Hammerand was in bed early today when the bandits summoned him to the garage. He found himself confronted by four revolvers and was told to throw up his hands.

A few minutes later one of the bandits struck Hammerand on the head with his gun, knocking him to the ground. It was then that the airedale began his attack.

VARIED ROMANCE GREET'S GOLFERS AT LINKS OF CALIFORNIA COUNTRY CLUB

'RUNAWAY HYMIE' FINDS SHELTER; CAUSES PROBE

Little Hymie Herman has the spirit of wanderlust. Hymie is 11 years old and a ward of the juvenile court.

Three months ago Hymie ran away from his home for the last time. His mother said she couldn't make him mind and so turned him over to Probation Officer Margaret Marsh Parker.

Then Hymie was placed in another home. He was dressed up in new clothes and had a new pair of shoes and a new hat. Three days after he had been placed in his new home Hymie ran away again.

When he left his new home Hymie took $10 and made up his mind that he would travel and see the world. The first night he went to a cheap rooming house, where they took his 50-cent piece and gave him a room.

Then the authorities found Hymie and took him to the police station. The boy told his story to the police and now an investigation is under way to see how it happened that the rooming house man took such a small boy in alone.

It is said that there are other places that are doing the same thing with runaway boys and it is the intention of the authorities to stop this practice.

AUTOISTS HELP Another way people help to get the little boys like Hymie into trouble is by picking them up in automobiles and taking them a long way from home.

If these boys are taken to another town and they have no money, which is usually the case, they have to steal to get anything to eat and then they land in jail.

Nearly all of the runaway boys have mothers and the worry they know over the disappearance of their boys is terrible. The juvenile authorities have appealed to automobile owners not to pick up the boys on the road.

Above are sketches by Cartoonist Wyn Barden who, with Reed Heustis, climbed the hill to the California Country club

Hard by the film studios at Culver City is nestled away in the not overbulging hills a rustic club house, headquarters and general stamping grounds for the California Country club, formerly known as the Culver City Country club, and boasting one of the most delightful links in Southern California.

In today's club visit Reed Heustis and Cartoonist Barden make a flying trip to the "California" links and discover several things, among them that a golfer may be devoted to his golfing game, but woe betide the luncheons, for luncheon time is not only spectacular, but debacular.

By REED HEUSTIS Today we have the California Country club, just about Culver City and tucked away in the small group of foothills which, in ages gone by for no reason at all apparently, thrust themselves into the upper air and prominence as though with the forethought that in the ages to come real estate men would note the advantages of the location for a golf links and act accordingly.

The California Country club links is a place of romance—and 18 holes. The touches of romance come in the shape of rustic old buildings; pepper trees sheltered vales where a golfer, missing a stroke, may make his lamentation to high heaven in the secure knowledge that no part of his outburst will reach ears for which it was not intended.

ROMANCE COMING UP And if that isn't romance, then what is? The crowning touch of the romantic stuff, however, comes in the shape of Louise Glaum—wait a minute—house. Miss Glaum is the film actress. Her home lies hard by the golf links, in fact abuts upon it, which is but fair enough, many of the golfers often having abutted upon the Glaum property.

Would it not be wonderfully romantic to be playing around that golf links and, approaching the modest little farmhouse which perches on the brow of a knoll, to wallop the dollar and a quarter's worth of gutta-percha such a resounding wallop as to break a window in the little farmhouse? You say you cannot see any romance in such a thing any more than you could see romance in a severe case of mayhem?

WHOKNOWS—WHOKNOWS? Well, you would, if, after having busted the little farmhouse window you were to learn that the little home was the home of Louise Glaum.

TWO NABBED AS BANDITS AFTER GUN FIGHT

Two alleged bandits are detained at the city jail following a desperate gun battle at Ninth street and Boyle avenue, in which Patrolman W. L. Brett, newly appointed officer, arrested one of them and engaged in a gun fight with two others.

Brett reported to the Boyle Heights police that he discovered three men quarreling in an automobile. He whipped out his revolver, jumped on the running board of the machine and told them they were under arrest.

A young man giving the name of Lester B. Young, 27, leaped from the auto and attempted to shoot Brett. The officer disarmed him and arrested him on suspicion of highway robbery. Young's alleged confederates drove away. Brett used Young as a shield and fired several shots at the fleeing men and his maneuver prevented them from returning his fire.

REPORTED CONFESSION At the Boyle Heights station Young was reported to have confessed that he and his alleged confederates participated in three holdups, two of which were near a brick yard on Stephenson avenue and the other near the Southern Pacific station.

Young is said to have given the police the names of the two men who fled in the automobile and asserted that the trio was fighting over the loot collected in the hold-ups.

As a result of his alleged confession, Police Lieutenant Hagenbaugh and Detectives Killeby and Cazier of the University station arrested a young man at an East Twentieth street house. He is alleged to have participated in the robberies and gave the name of James Brady, 22 years old.

HUNT THIRD MAN The police searched for the third member of the alleged bandit gang. The Boyle Heights police reported that the victims of the three robberies, said to have been admitted by Young, had failed to make reports to the police.

An investigation was made by the police in an effort to link the two men under arrest with robberies reported by two victims.

L. J. Boatwright of 3716 Long Beach avenue and Miss M. E. Howard of 1153 South Grand avenue were held up by two bandits at Twelfth and Grand avenue. Boatwright was robbed of $8 and a gold watch. The bandits fled in an automobile.

BRANDY VALUED AT $20,000 IS STOLEN FROM WAREHOUSE

Gang Escapes with Precious Loot Belonging to Vineyard Co. Near Alhambra Station

AUTO TRUCK IN GETAWAY Robbery Follows Theft of $40,000 in Alcohol Used in Manufacture of Liquor

Twelve barrels of brandy, worth many thousands of dollars, were stolen from a warehouse of the American Vineyard Co., a quarter of a mile east of the Alhambra station, according to a report to the sheriff's office today.

The brandy was taken away in an automobile truck, the report stated. IN WAREHOUSE The stolen liquor was registered with the prohibition enforcement authorities. It was stored behind several locked doors at the warehouse. The thieves entered through a side door during the night.

Under present conditions it is difficult to give an accurate value of the stolen brandy, but at the sheriff's office it was estimated that the brandy was worth at least $20,000.

TWO ROBBERIES The robbery at Alhambra followed the theft from the warehouse of the Cucamonga Vintage Co. at Cucamonga of 800 gallons of alcohol used in the manufacture of brandy under government supervision. The alcohol was the property of the Italian-American Vineyard Co. and was valued at $50 a gallon, the total loss being $40,000.

The thieves who entered the Cucamonga warehouse also used an automobile truck, and it is believed that they are the same men who committed the robbery at Alhambra.

Property Owners Oppose Closing of Hollywood Street

Property owners in the Hollywood district have aligned themselves to combat the closing of Argyle street, as proposed by the Lasky Pictures corporation, which plans to erect studios on the property now used as a public thoroughfare.

W. H. Markham, a property owner in Hollywood, today submitted a bid to the city council in which he offered to pay $15,000 for the street should it be vacated.

The matter is in the hands of the public works committee of the council and a report with recommendations will probably be made to the council soon.

recently packed the dollars into the Majestic theater box office. The third—we cannot draw back at this late stage from the egg simile—is Clark Thomas. You may know of Clark and then, again, you may not, but of this be assured, Mr. Thomas is a wonderful trencherman and when it comes to apple pie he is, as we understand, a major leaguer. This also goes for the other two.

TWO BUCKS, EIGHTY

Considering that apple pie and coffee enough for the three set the statute Mr. Reed back two dollars and eighty cents, you will gather our meaning. Frank McGregor, a canny Scotsman, is steward of the club. For a long time Mr. McGregor was high mogul of the Detroit Country club, one of the largest golfing organizations in the country. He came to California and, having noted those hills of which he spoke but recently, decided this was the course he could learn to love—and cast in his lot with the "California" and thus became associated with a number of notables. The membership list of the California is long and sparkling. We culled a few names from here and there and discovered that a bond issue of $100,000 has just been fully subscribed.

JUST OUT OF ARMY

Jack Stone, just out of the Canadian army and a golfer of high repute, is the club professional. Mr. Stone besides walking putts, persimmon balls around the country-side made quite a name for himself by walloping a number of Germans hither and thither where the Germans were thickest. But the membership list, or at least here are a few of the members if you would care to assure yourself you would be in good hands in joining the club: D. A. Hamburger, Dr. T. J. Ruddy, George B. Bavin, Dr. Byington, Dr. Brumial, Charles Crenshaw, Harry T. Fertig, J. C. Haggerty, Charles Jeffras, Willis Morris, William McShane, Roy Meads, Dr. W. V. Goodfellow, C. E. Wear, A. G. Wernick, George W. Somerville (the judge Somerville we take it of the workaday world), G. H. Turner, Luther Reed, Tom Ince, C. Gardner Sullivan, R. W. Statter, H. E. Shaffer and—oh, a mess of others, scores and scores of others, some of whom play mighty good golf, too.

LOW HANDICAP MEN

The low handicap men of the club are, as we were able to gather them: E. R. Hurst, recent club tournament winner, 12; Dr. H. C. Humes, 6; E. H. Case, 6; W. W. Ralphs, 6; Frank Roach, 12; A. Shuck, 6; Harlan Weaver, 12; William White, 10; H. H. Whiteley, 14—but in Whiteley's case, Mr. McGregor will confess that Whiteley is capable of far better golf than that.

TALENT IN GREAT DEMAND SAYS INCE

applicant to even attempt an entrance into a motion picture studio. Many—very many—talented young persons have failed to pass a studio test and tryout merely because a total lack of experience and training placed them hopelessly and ludicrously in the class of undesirable amateurs.

ADVANCE TRAINING ADVISED

Personality cannot be determined, nor can it be boycotted from the ranks of professionalism. To combine natural personality with natural talent—properly rehearsed before the great test arrives—is the duty of every aspirant to motion picture recognition. The opportunity for those who believe in themselves and who are sincere in their determination to win was never more inviting than the immediate present! Talent is needed in greater quantity—and quality—than ever before, and the producer is only too willing to have the great American public as the source of supply.

Deserted Wife Gets Soldier Husband's N. Dak. War Bonus

JAMESTOWN, N. D., May 10.—Mrs. Harrietta J. Lee of this city, mother of six children and the deserted wife of a soldier who was honorably discharged from the service, has been awarded the state bonus due her husband under the soldier's compensation law. Affidavits from Mrs. Lee and the Red Cross established her claim.

Mrs. Lee's warrant was one of 124 issued in a single day by Adjutant General Frazer. She was awarded a bonus for her husband's ten months of service on the basis provided by law of $21 for each month or fraction of a month spent in the service of the United States or allied nations. Warrants totaling approximately $380,000 were paid during April. The amounts range from $50 to $675 and the periods of service men and women is about $375.

Among the declared uses to which the money will be put by those thus far paid are obtaining education, buying homes, paying off mortgages and loans and establishing business.

DOCTOR ADVISED CHANGE OF CLIMATE

Run Down and Lungs Hurt—Stayed Home and Gained 22 Pounds

"In November, 1911, I had a severe cold and flu, which left me with a bad cough. My lungs and shoulder blades hurt so I couldn't sleep and I finally had to give up my job and was ordered to change climate. In April, 1912, I began taking Milk's Emulsion. On the second bottle I could see a change. My appetite was better and I commenced to gain strength and weight. Now (August 25, 1912), I have used 24 bottles, have increased 22 pounds in weight and believe I am permanently cured."—W. F. Bourland, Route 5, Wolf City, Texas.

Mr. Bourland was fortunate in commencing to use Milk's Emulsion when he did. A run-down system invites disease. Milk's Emulsion cleanses the stomach and bowels of all impurities, restoring healthy, natural bowel action and aiding away with all need of pills and physics. It corrects the digestive organs and improves the constitution. Thus it helps nature to build up the blood and tissues and to strengthen the throat, stomach and bowels. As a builder of flesh and strength Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.
